

Steve Wilkins R.I.P.

Written by idaho
Friday, 01 March 2013 00:00 -

---

It is with great sadness that I report the sudden passing of Steve Wilkins, who was a friend and colleague to many CXS members and a wonderful contributor to the CXS science. For many years Steve worked for the CSIRO as Leader of X-Ray Science & Instrumentation, and was a pioneer in X-ray phase contrast imaging. In this capacity he drove the CSIRO interactions with the research program of the CXS and worked closely with colleagues in the Experimental Physics Program. His death is a great loss to Australian science. Our condolences go out to his family.